*As of 6/1/96, all nuclear warheads were withdrawn to Russia for dismantlement in accordance with the Trilateral Statement. The heavy bombers have not been dismantled or transferred to Russia, and these bombers remain on the books until they are destroyed. Their attributed warheads also remain start-accountable (at a level of approximately 352), even though no warheads are deployed. The cruise missiles for the bombers apparently remain in Ukraine, albeit without warheads.
